Quran Word Reader

Understand the Quran in its own words

Learn the meaning of every Arabic word, and read the Quran without a translation.

marshadkc.github.io/quranreader

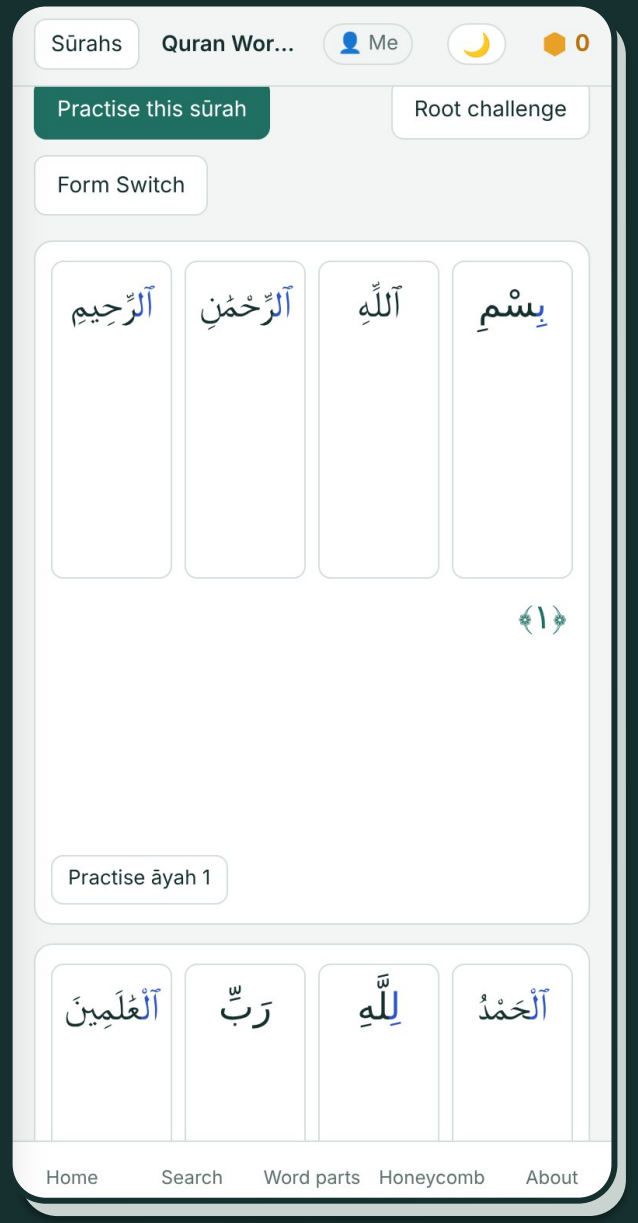

Free · No ads · English · اردو · हिंदी

WHY

You recite it every day. Now understand every word.

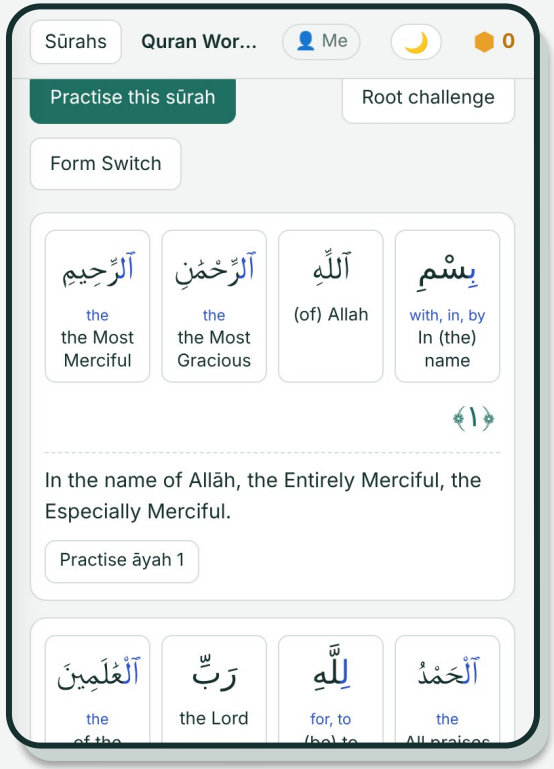

Most of us read the Quran in Arabic but understand it only through a translation. Quran Word Reader teaches the words themselves, so the Arabic page speaks to you directly.

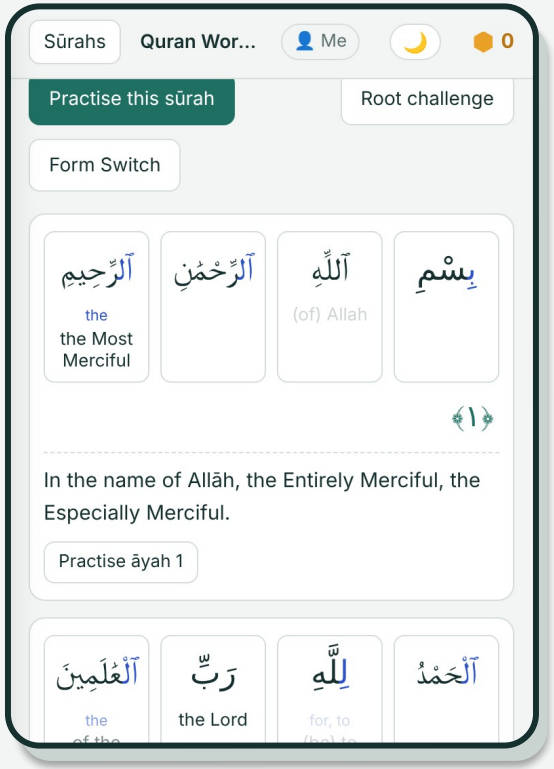

01 THE IDEA

Watch the translation fade away

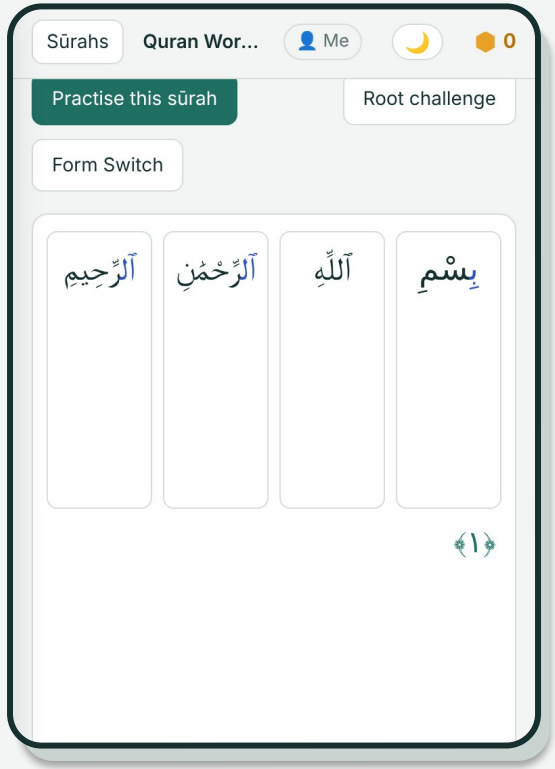

Start
A meaning under every word

Learning
Meanings fade as you learn them

Goal
Plain Arabic, and you understand it

02 AT A GLANCE

The whole Quran, word by word

114

sūrahs: the whole Quran, from Al-Fātiḥah to An-Nās

77,429

words, every one with its meaning

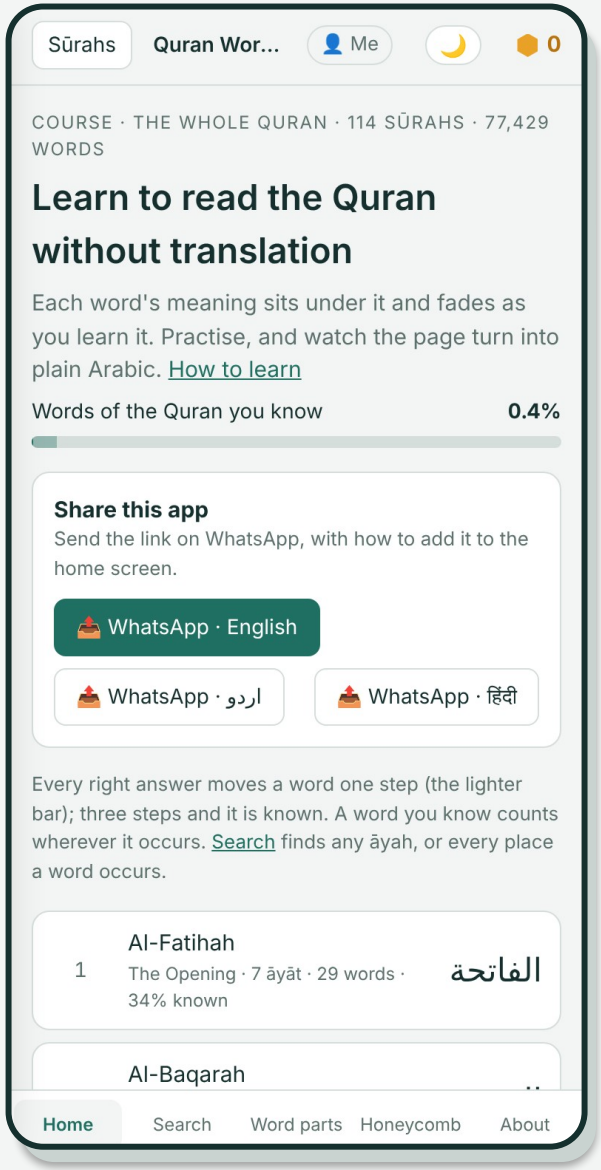

7

classical Arabic dictionaries for the meaning of each root

3

languages: English, اردو and हिंदी

Free, with no ads and no sign-up.

03 THE METHOD

A simple daily habit

1

Take 3, 5 or 10 āyāt a day.

2

Say each word aloud, then its meaning.

3

Repeat the set 7 times.

4

Hide the meanings (None) and read again.

5

Practise the set in a quick quiz.

6

Read a muṣḥaf without translation.

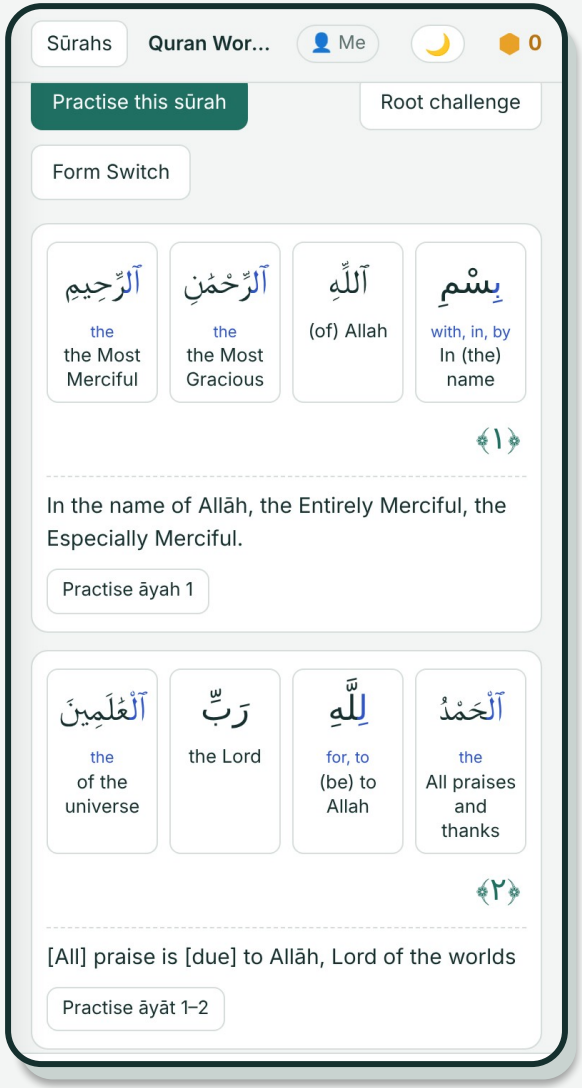

Then go on through the sūrah, and the whole Quran, the same way.

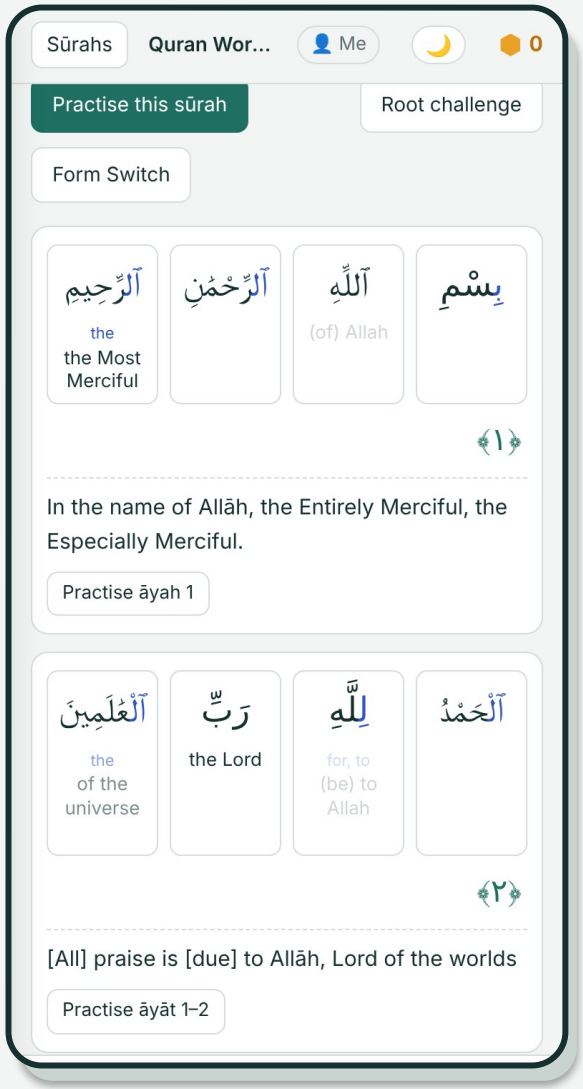

04 READER

A meaning under every word

Read any sūrah word by word, in English, Urdu or Hindi.

- Show one or two languages, with the full āyah translation below.
- Meanings fade as you learn them.
- Tap None to test yourself, and tap a word to peek.

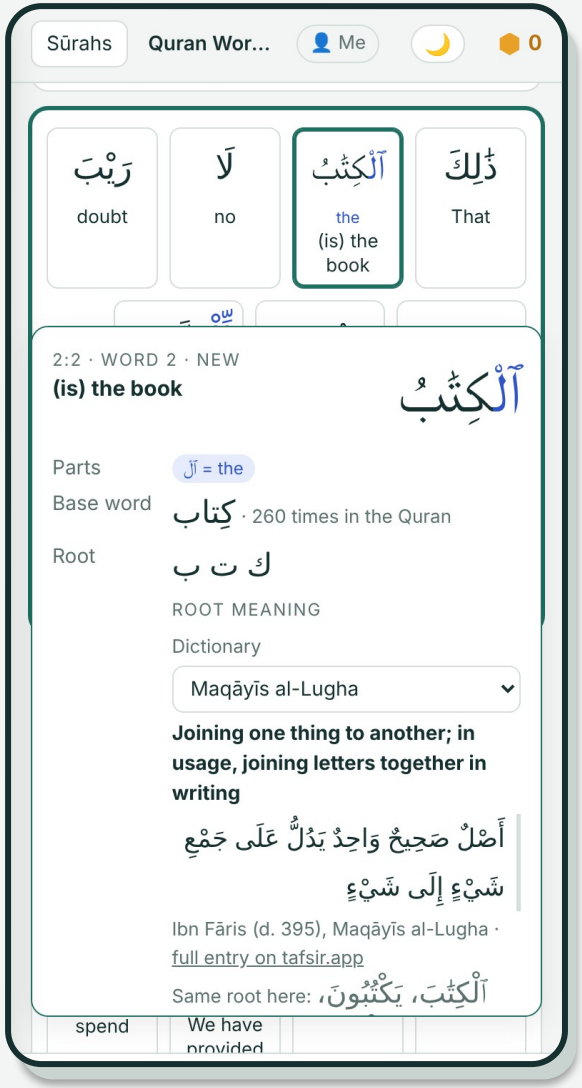

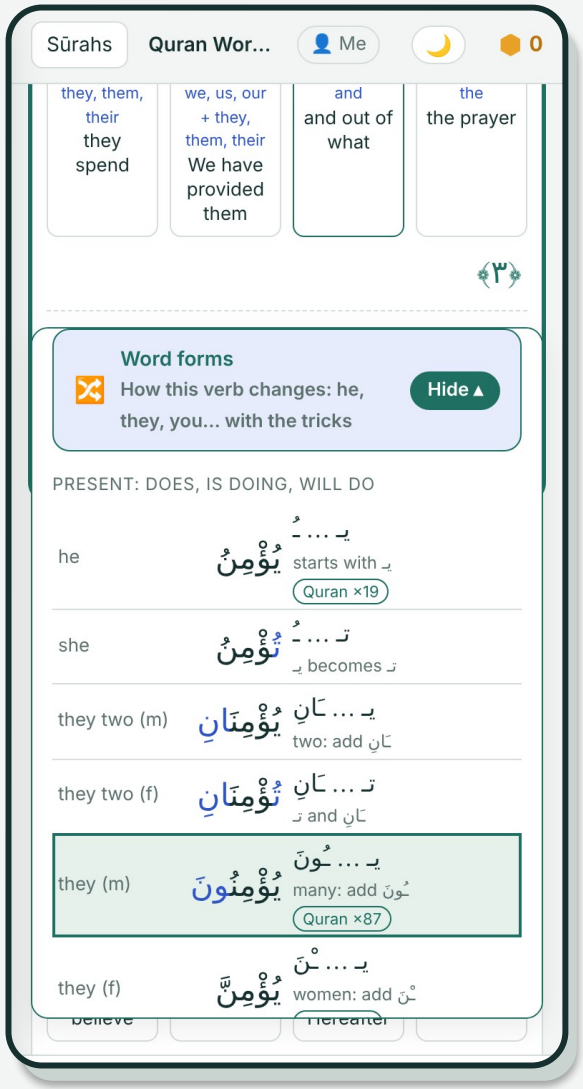

05 WORD CARD

Every word opens up

Tap a word to see how it is built and what its root means.

- Its parts in colour: وَ, فَ, آل and the endings.
- The root's meaning from 7 classical Arabic dictionaries.
- Word forms: how the verb changes, with the forms used in the Quran marked.

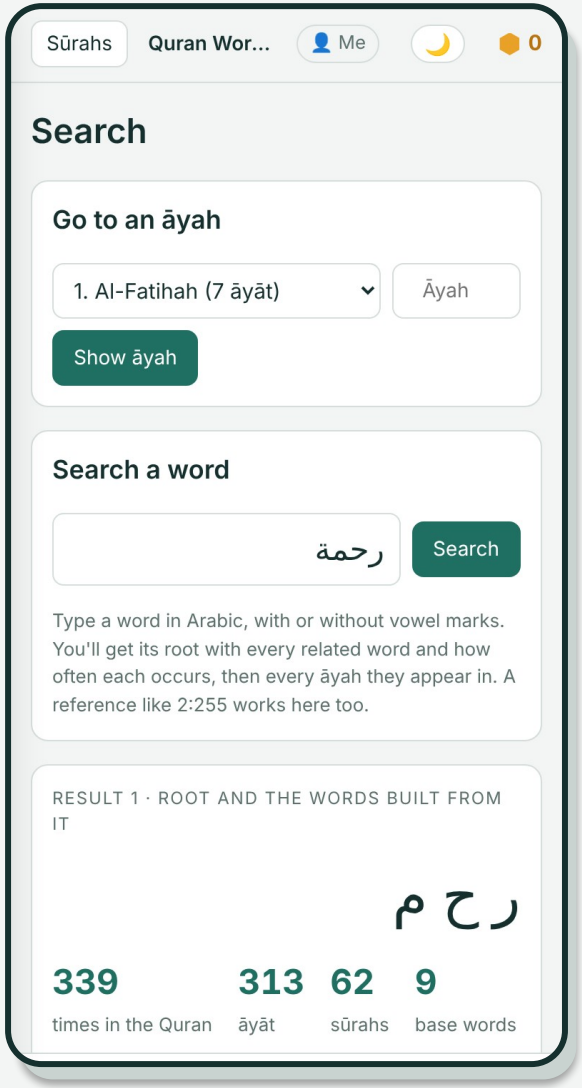

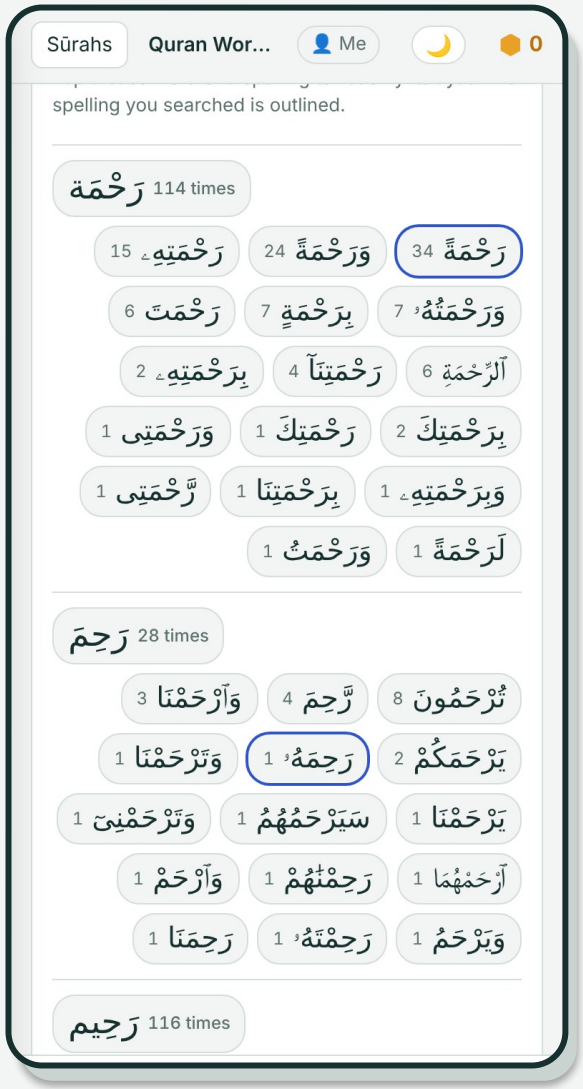

06 SEARCH

The whole Quran at your fingertips

Find any āyah, or every place a word or its root appears.

- Type 2:255 to jump straight to Āyat al-Kursī.
- رحمة: 339 times in 313 āyāt, with every form and spelling.
- Open any result in its sūrah or on its muṣḥaf page.

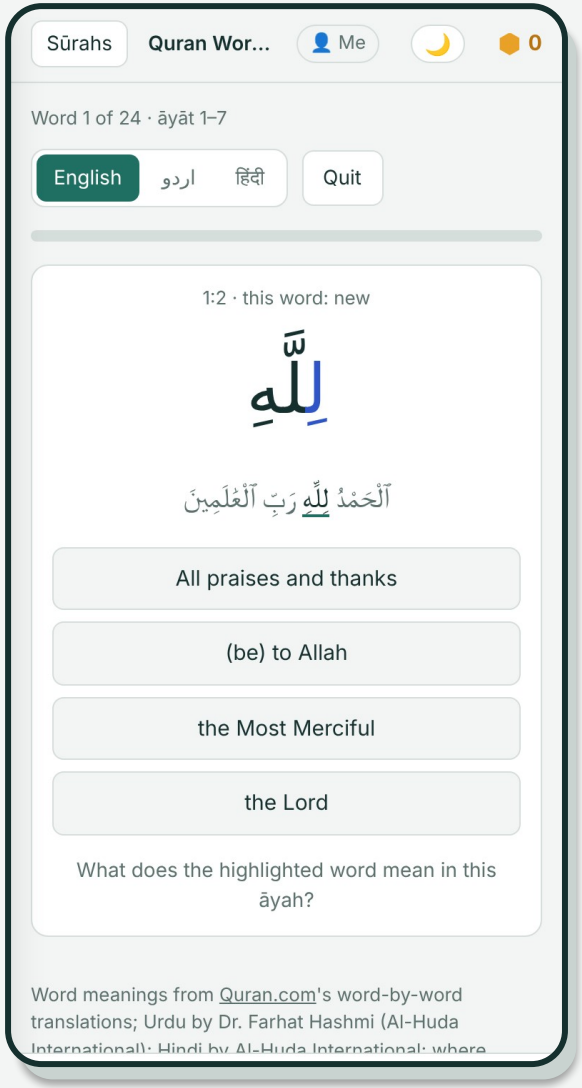

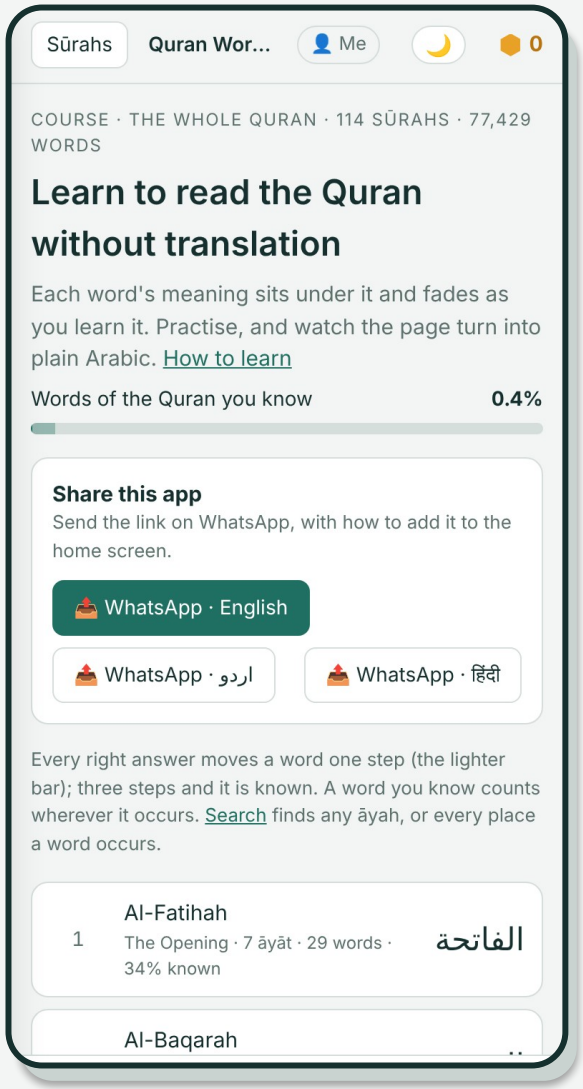

07 PROGRESS

See how far you have come

Practise any set of āyāt and watch your share of the Quran grow.

- Pick the meaning of each word. Mistakes come back at the end.
- 3 right answers and the word is yours, wherever it appears.
- Progress for every sūrah, and for the whole Quran.

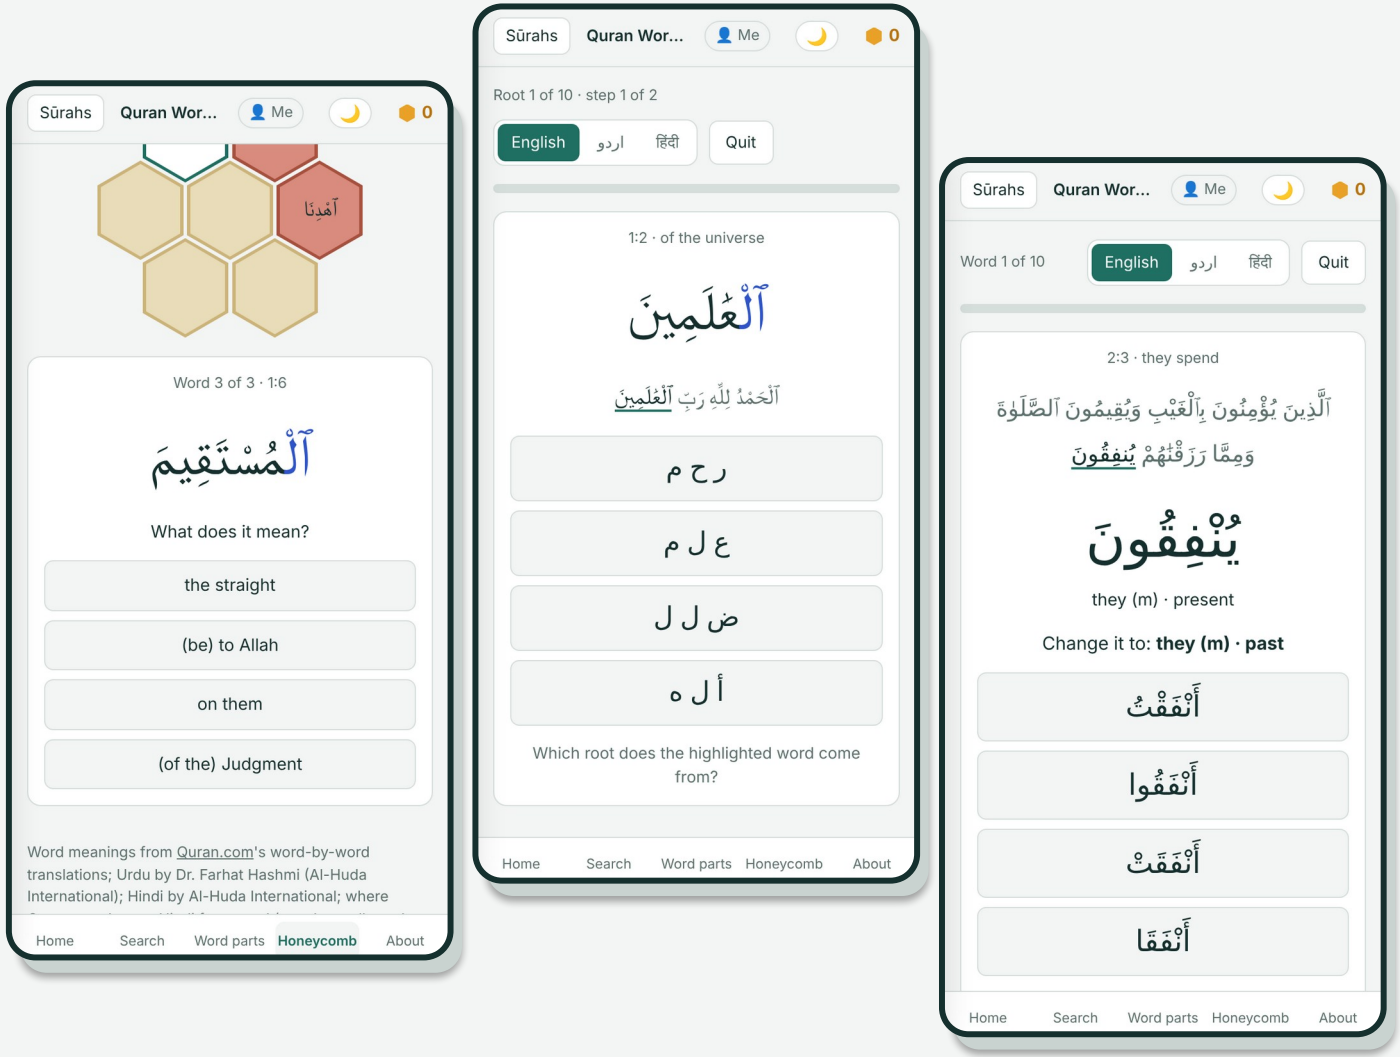

08 GAMES

Learning that feels like play

Three quizzes and a honey jar keep you coming back.

- Honeycomb: answer the words of an āyah to cross the comb.
- Root challenge: find each word's root and its deep meaning.
- Form Switch: turn a verb or a noun into another form.

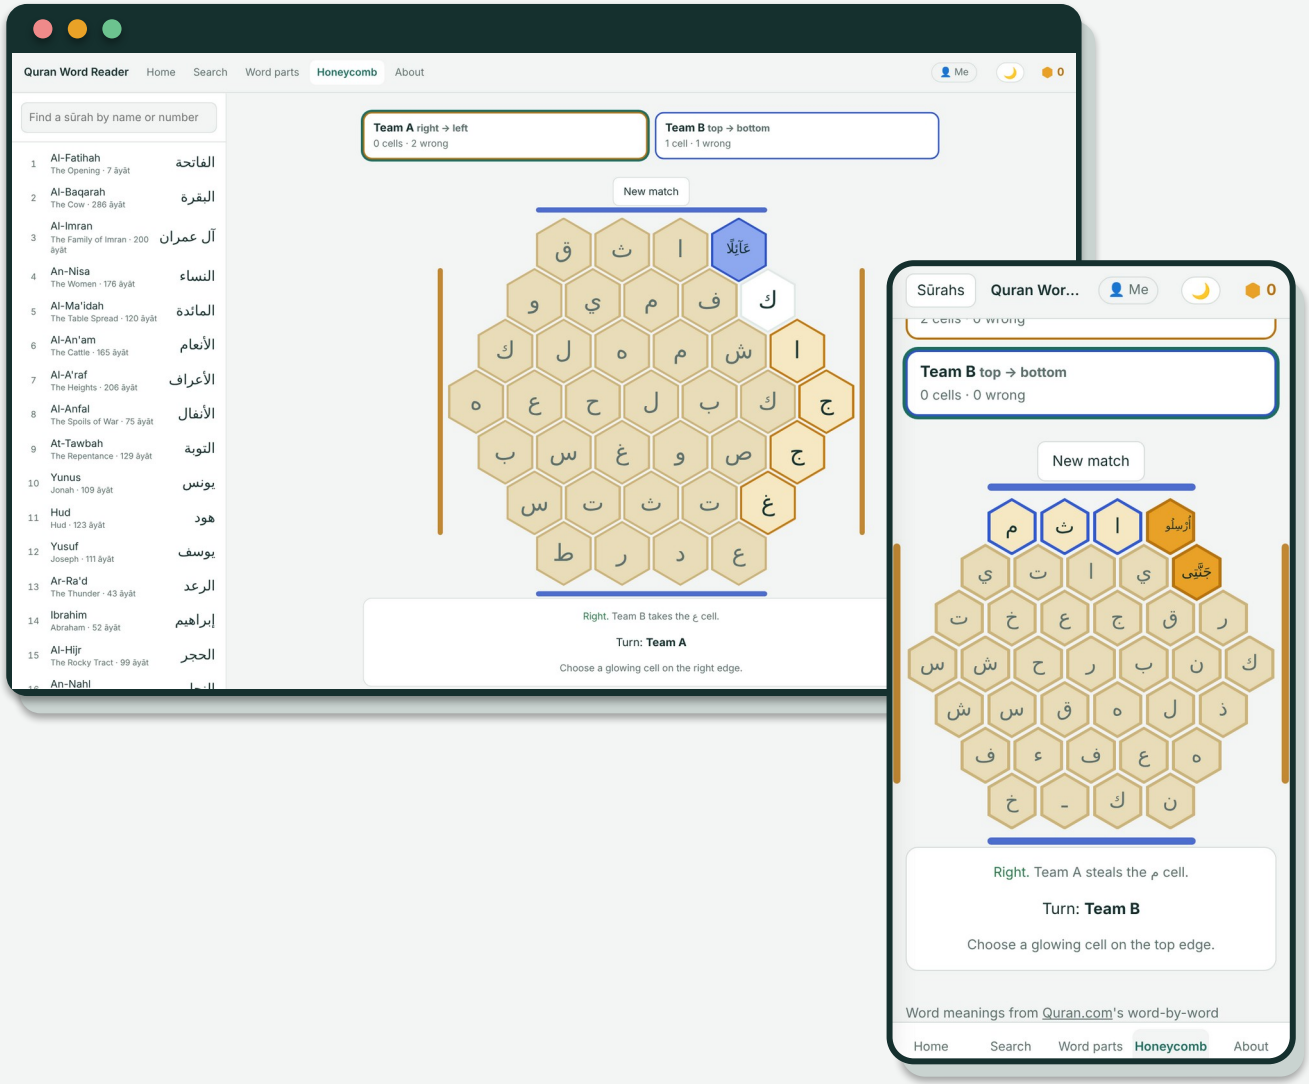

09 CLASSROOM

Built for the classroom

A team game for the class screen, and a profile for each class.

- Two teams race across a 37-cell honeycomb and steal cells with right answers.
- Each cell shows its word's first letter as a clue.
- Clear a class's progress after the lesson.

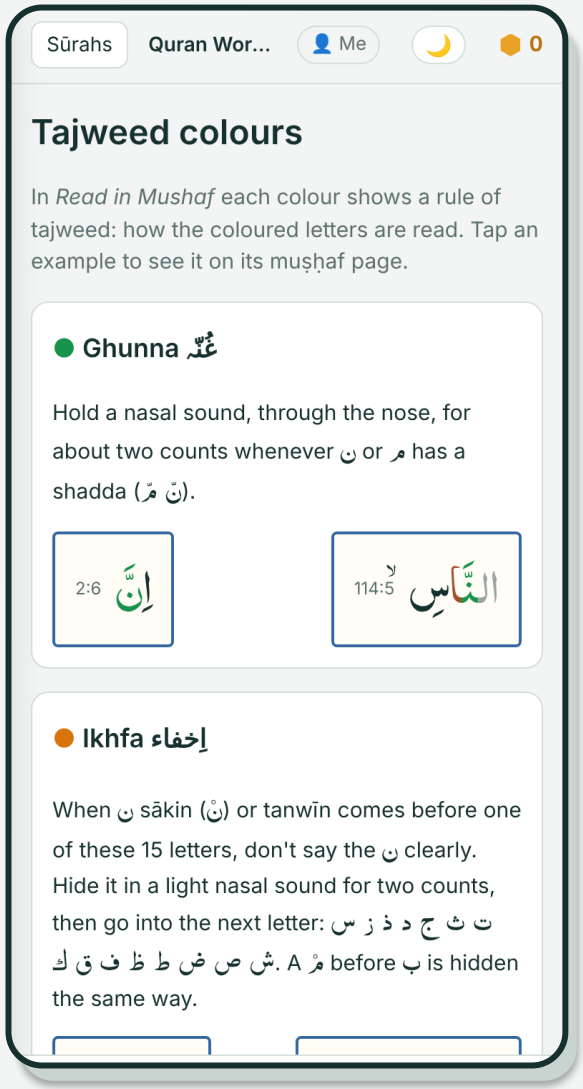

10 MUṢḤAF

Read the real muṣḥaf, in colour

The Indo-Pak 15-line hifz muṣḥaf, with tajweed colours.

- 610 pages, and every page ends on an āyah.
- A guide to every tajweed colour, with examples.
- Tap any word on the page for its meaning.

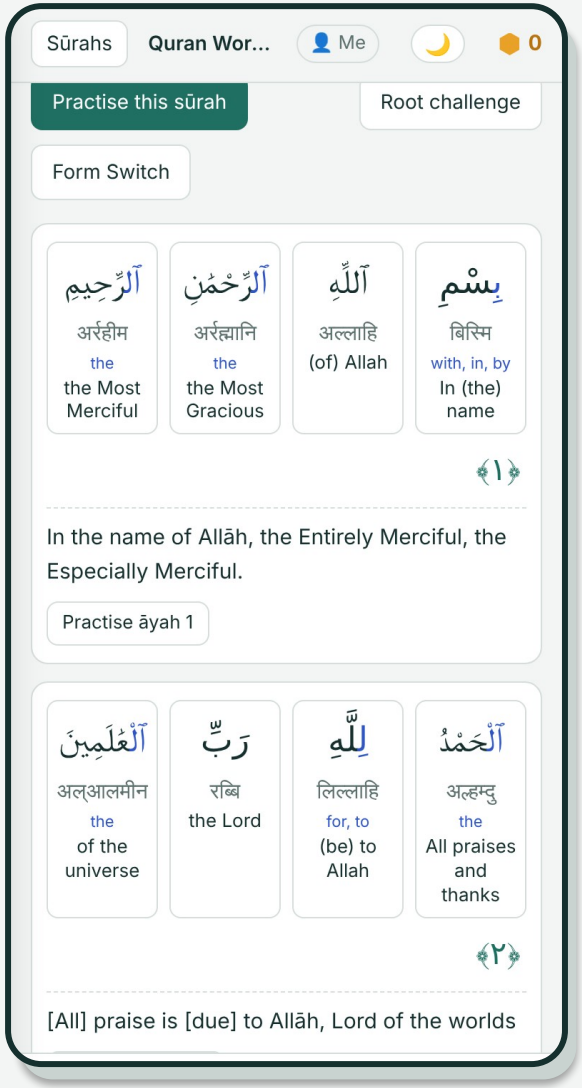

11 HINDI LETTERS

No Arabic letters yet? Start anyway.

Every word can be shown in Hindi letters, alone or under the Arabic.

- ٱلَّذِينَ is written अल्लज़ी-न. The "-" marks a short "a" that is said.
- An āyah's last word is written as read at a stop: लिल्मुत्तक़ीन.
- Quizzes switch to Hindi letters too.

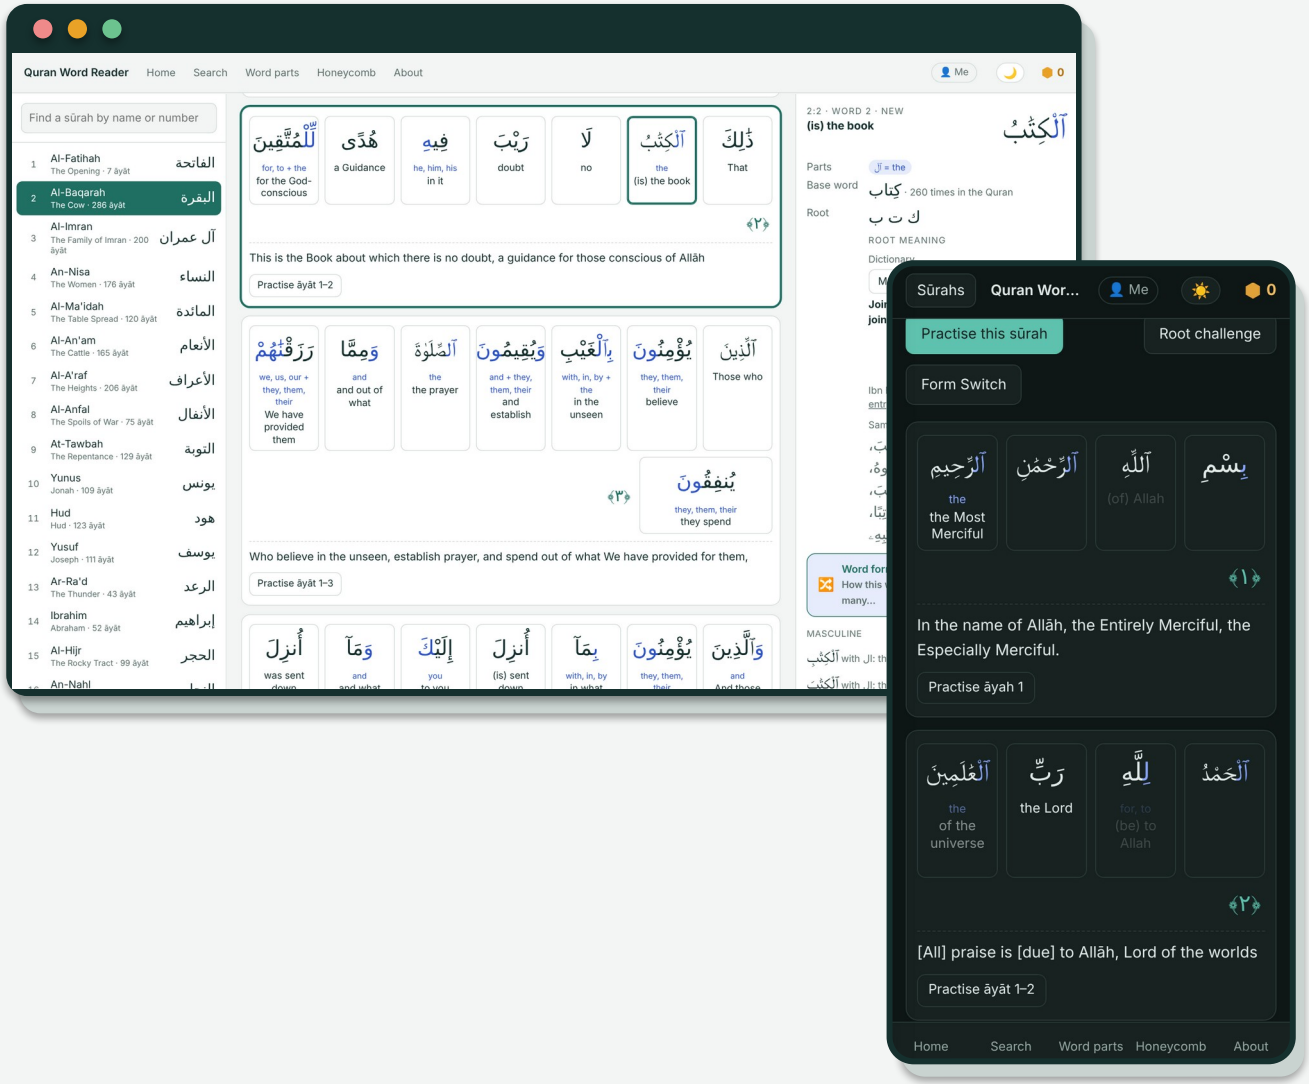

12 ANYWHERE

On your phone, tablet or computer

Install it once and read anywhere, even without internet.

- Works offline after the first visit.
- Light or dark, whatever the phone's setting.
- On a computer the word card opens beside the page.

13 WHO IT'S FOR

For everyone who loves the Quran

Learners

Anyone who reads Arabic letters and wants the meaning.

Hifz students

Understand what you memorise, on the same 15-line page.

Teachers

Team games and class profiles for the classroom.

Families

Learn together, a few āyāt a day.

New readers

Start in Hindi letters, before the Arabic script.

Free for all

No ads, no sign-up, no tracking. Non-commercial.

14 START TODAY

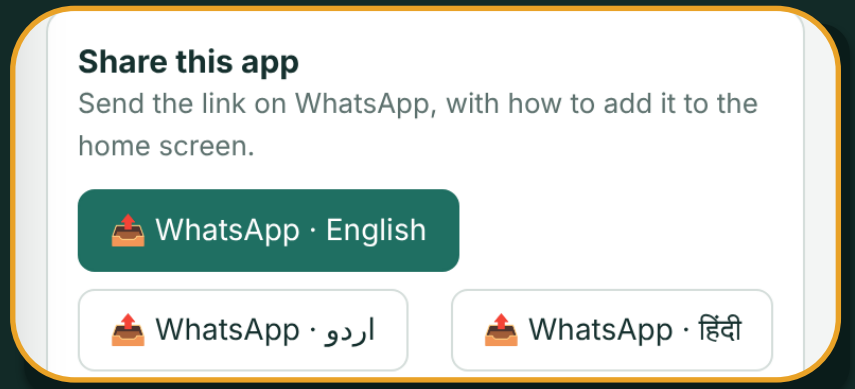

Open it. Add it. Share it.

https://marshadkc.github.io/quranreader

Android Open the link in Chrome, tap ⋮ and choose "Add to Home screen".

iPhone Open it in Safari, tap Share and choose "Add to Home Screen".

Share Tap "Share this app" on the home page to send it on WhatsApp.

Credits
Arabic text, word parts and roots: Quranic Arabic Corpus (quran-morphology). Word meanings: Quran.com; Urdu and Hindi by Al-Huda International. Āyah translations: Saheeh International, Fateh Muhammad Jalandhari, Azizul Haque al-Umari. Muṣḥaf layout: QUL by Tarteel. Root meanings: classical dictionaries via tafsir.app. IndoPak font: QuranWBW.